TRAMPLED ON STARS.

Johnny Ward's Beauties Given a Lesson in Ball Playing Yesterday.

Johnny Ward and his all-star galaxy of ball tossers stacked up against the Washington aggregation yesterday afternoon and suf-fered defeat. After being thrown down three times at Baltimore John Montgomery did not expect to be trampled on here, and his failure to win yesterd 1y was all the more surprising as well as disappointing to him. It was a game well calculated to keep the 3,700 spectators upon their toes, as it were, and many of them came near standing on their heads when McGuire cracked out a double in the eighth inning, sending in three runs. Everyone was up waving hats, canes and umbrellas, while the voice of the populace was almost deafening. If the inmates of an insane asylum had witnessed the scene they would have died from mortification and eavy.

When gentle Jeems scored in the same inning his face became suffused with biushes on Manager Schmelz extending a friendly hand of congratulation as a reward for such a noble hit. It was at a most critical stage of the game that McGuire got in his timely swat. The score was a tib, it was the eighth inning, The score was a tie, it was the eighth inning, and there were three men on bases. Big Amos Rusie glared at Jeens and then propeiled a straight ball swiftly toward the plate. The sphere had whiskers, but Mae inid on the bait and it shot from off the bat, bound for the open space between left and center. There was a brief moment of suspense, then a yell went up from the throats of thousands which should have been heard in Anaeostia, Ward, Joyce, and Abbey sped rapidly to the plate, while McGuire stopped at second, well satisfied with his effort.

Memories of a Fourth of July game of sevat second, wen satisfied with his enort.

Memories of a Fourth of July game of several years ago, when McGuire lined a ball over the left field sence and won a game from Louisville, crowded thick and fast to the minds of the old-time fans, and they will now have a companion piece to the former feat.

The New Yorks made a gallant attempt in the ninth lening to regain the day, but the best they could do was not enough, and a saddened lot of stars left the park yowing to get even this afternoon. One of the best flustrations of the mutability of a ball player's propularity was seen at vesterday's game popularity was seen at yesterday's game, when Charley Farrell did not, receive one handelap of applause as he stepped to the plate. Last year Farrell was the idol of the local fans, and he must have felt the slight. On the other hand "Midget" Murphy, of the New York team, bounded at once into favor and the little follow was twee obliged. favor, and the little fellow was twice obliged invor, and the little remow was twice configer to doff his cap in recognition of the applause, His work in the field, at the bat, and on the bases was of the highest order, and if his fel-low-players had followed the page he set the New Yorks would have won hands down. He

New Yorks would have wen hands down. He made three hits, two runs, and twice stole third base in the most approved manner.

The two heavy-weight twirlers of the league, Petty and Rusie, were in the points, and the former did much the better work. He was stendy and invincible when men were on bases. In the fifth inning Murphy got around to third before an out, but the next three batters, although the choicest hitters in the team—ward, Van Haltren, and Tiernan—could not send Murphy home. With one out in the sixth Davis and Connor hit for singles, but Farrell and Rusie failed to get the ball you buy are worth—no more than they'll cost anywhere else—not quite so much as

To Joyce, however, is due in a great measure the victory, as he steadied the infield at serious moments and led his men at the bat. serious moments and led his men at the bat. It was expected that "Scrappy" and John Montgomery would indulge in more or less wordy arguments, but "Scrappy" attended strictly to business and thereby showed the great head. He made the first hit for his side and played a great game at third. One of the choicest plays of the game occurred when he held Murphy at third and then threw Ward out at first. Sullivan had a great amount of work to look after at short and did well, even if he did make two bad throws to first.

Joyes and McGuire were presented with their bases on balls in the first inning, but neither reached bome. In the second Rusie was similarly charitable to Cartwright and Selback, with the same result. Murphy started off with a hit for New York, reached second on Ward's sacrifice, stole third and tablied on You Helfrey's tested by the first and tablied on You Helfrey's tested by started off with a bit for New York, reached second on Ward's sacriflee, stole third and tallied on Van Haltren's single. Davis drove a long fly to right for three bases and scored on Burke's artistle sacriflee.

Washington made a run in the third on Ward's base on balls, Joyce's single and Abbey's out at first. Neither side tallied again until the sixth, when Joyce tied the score on his base on balls. Abbey's sacriflee, a bold steal of third and McGuire's long fly out to Tiernan. In the eighth the home team secured four runs and won the game.

Ward storted with a double to left, and Joyce beat out his bunt. Abbey was given first on balls, filling the bases. At this stage of the fray McGuire lined out his double and three men came home. Sullivan's sacrifice put McGuire on third and he scored while Johnny Ward was colliding with Murphy in the attempt to field Tebeau's grounder. The latter stole second, but was left.

The New Yorkers secured their last tally in the night when with two controls.

The New Yorkers secured their last tally in the ninth, when, with two out, Murphy's hit got away from Petty, and Ward and Van Haltren followed with singles, letting Mur-phy home. Mike Tiernan put all out of sus-pense by hitting a high fly, which Joyce took into camp. The score:

OLD TIME RALLY.

re Orioles Made Boston Very Tired in the Final Inning.

BALTIMORE, April 24.—Boston showed the white feather in the last inning to-day and allowed Baltimore to win in a canter. At the beginning of the ninth inning with the score 3 to 1 in Boston's favor, Stivetts gave Kelley and Reitz bases on balls. The crowd became excited, and when Jennings followed with a corking single pandemonium was turned loose. This so rattled Stivetts that he had to be replaced by Nichols. Robinson was given first on balls, forcing in Kelley, then the slugging began. McMahon scored Reitz and Jennings on his single, putting Baltimore in the lead. Singles by McGraw, Keeler, and Brouthers, with Brodie's three bagger, yielded nine runs.

At this point, Boston seeing they were defeated, made no attempt to retire the batsman, hoping to prolong the game until darkness so that the game would be called back to the end of the eighth inning. They were unable to accomplish this, and before the side was retired fourteen men had crossed the plate. Both sides fielded finely, Boston making three double plays. Baltimore threw away chances to score in the fifth and seventh inning by foolish base running. Score:

Baseball Brevitles. Washington and New York to-day at 4.30

Both teams kicked on Umpire Lynch's decis-ons on balls and strikes. Joyce proved himself a field general in yester-day's contest, and not a point escaped him. Maul will probably pitch for Washington to day, while Clarke will officiate for New York. It's about time Anson, Foutz and Ward, the three great managers, should get a move on. Pitcher Black will now have an opportunity to go elsewhere, as he drew his release yesterday. A band of music aided in making things pleas-ant at yesterday's game, and many ladies were

The Philadelphia Inquirer says: Collectively the Washington team comprises a fast set of players, and with one or two good pitchers would make the best of them hustle. Cartwright fell asleep in yesterday's game when he stood off second base and allowed little Murphy to touch him out. There was no excuse for the blunder, and Captain Joyce said so to
